Coleman I.O.O.F. and Rebekahs Recipients Very High Honor.

A very nice tribute has been paid by the local Rebekahs and Oddfellows to the provincial officers in an invitation extended to them by the President of the Rebekah Assembly to stage the "Floral Pageant" at the Grand Lodge sessions in Calgary on Friday evening of this week.

This pageant, in which twenty-one members are taking part, seventeen ladies and four gentlemen, portrays in a beautiful manner the symbols of the order, "Friendship, Love and Truth," the "Three Links," and "I.O.O.F." The emblems are all depicted with flowers and interspersed with music and oral parts combining to make one of the most impressive and colorful performances in the work of the order.

When it is considered that of all the lodges comprising the Grand Lodge of Alberta, Coleman has been chosen to stage this pageant, it is indeed a great compliment to these local organizations, and the citizens of Coleman will feel justly proud of them.

Following is a list of those taking part in the pageant who left this week for Calgary: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Burns, Miss Dorothy Burns, Mrs. Geo. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. John Gladfield, Mr. E. Beard, Mrs. H. Boulton, Miss Rhoda Antrobus, Mrs. W. Burrows, Mrs. J. L. Loucks, Mrs. John Rogers, Sr., Mrs. W. Hogan, Mrs. I. Neilson, Mrs. Geo. Hope, Mrs. Robt Evans, Mrs. C. F. Dunlop, Mr. George Derbyshire, Mr. McKeen Hunter, Mrs. W. McVay, and Mrs. J. Nash.

All Star Crow Team Fail to Defeat Local Tigers

An all star Crow League team comprising the pick of Blairmore and Bellevue, met the Coleman Tigers in the local arena on Wednesday night in the first of a two game series to decide the championship of the Crow League, and each team registered four goals. The game from a spectators viewpoint was the best seen here this season, and the local boys deserve great credit for the showing made against the "All Stars."

A return match is being played in Blairmore on Friday evening, total goals on the round count, and the winners are eligible to play down for the Allan Cup.

The explanation given out by one of the Crow League officials for Blairmore and Bellevue picking the best men from each team is, that this arrangement was agreed to by the league at the commencement of the season, because it was thought that neither team were strong enough to go into the Allan Cup play-down alone. However, from the form they displayed here last night, it is doubtful if the change has improved their chances in this respect, should they win from the Tigers Friday night.

Provincial Legislature Opens

Personal and Local

One of the most pleasant social events of the season took place on Wednesday evening in the Knights of Pythias hall, when Mrs. A. M. Morrison and Mr. W. L. Rippon were joint hosts at a very enjoyable dance. Invited guests to the number of one hundred, including many from out of town, were present. The interior of the hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion and together with the various pretty novelty events combined with charming party frocks worn by the ladies, made a very colorful picture. Delicious refreshments were served at the midnight hour and dancing continued until 2 a.m.

Premier Mackenzie King was received on Monday for the Prince Albert federal seat over his Conservative opponent, Capt. Burgess, by over five thousand majority.

number of ladies at her home at a delightful bridge party on Friday evening last. St. Valentine favors and flowers in the rooms combined to make a very pleasing effect. Mrs. W. E. G. ### Boxing Elimination Contests in Lethbridge on March 4th

Official Circular from the Alberta Branch of the A.A.U. to hold the Provincial Boxing Championships in Lethbridge, has just been received from Edmonton, and they will be staged in the Gymnasium of the L.Y.P.C.A. on Thursday evening, March 4th.

Competitors will be divided into under 70, over 70 lbs. and will include Junior, Novice and Open categories, the former containing five classes and being restricted to those who have not reached their eighteenth birthday.

A strong committee has been appointed to take charge of the arrangements, composed of the following well known sportsmen: Judge Jackson, chairman; Insp. Bavin of the A.A.P.; Messrs J. Lee, B. Metcalfe, G. McKillop, Syd. Wallis, Archie Ramer, and Secretary F. S. Dyke.

The committee are decidedly of the opinion that there is no reason why the South should not produce Provincial champions in several classes or even eventual winners of Dominion honors.

As an encouragement to possible entrants, Messrs Joe Lee and Ben Metcalfe of the Lethbridge Hotel have made a very sporting offer to present medals to the winners of each class in the forthcoming eliminations, and in addition to this their railway and hotel expenses will be paid to the scene of the trials, which will be held at the end of March either in Calgary or Edmonton.

It should be noted that all entrants must be in possession of current amateur cards by the day of the contest. Application forms for cards and entry blanks for the competitions can be obtained from Secretary F. S. Dyke of the L.Y.P.C.A., Lethbridge, who will gladly furnish any further information on request.

There is no entry fee for the eliminations, but in the case of those over eighteen years of age, a fee of fifty cents must accompany the application for amateur cards, which should be sent to Mr. C. B. Cheeseman, Vice-President, A.A.U. Cardston.

Miners Chapter, No. 41, O.K.S. are holding a dance in the I.O.O.F. hall on Thursday evening, Feb 26th, commencing at 9 p.m. All members and their families of the Masonic fraternity and members of the Eastern Star are cordially invited.

The senior C. G. I. T. girls had a very pleasant diversion from their ordinary meeting on Monday evening. They were invited to have a taffy pull at the home of Henry and Phyllis Foster.

It was a real evening of fun and merriment. The house was given over to the girls and what with making taffy and pulling it, till it would stretch no more and games and singing, the evening was spent most enjoyably by all the girls and their daughters.

A committee of which Mr. J. Conner is chairman and Messrs A. J. Brown, W. Griffith, B. Bond and A. Reynolds, members, were responsible for the invitations issued and the evening's programme.

Guests were also present from Bellevue and Blairmore. A whilst drive opened the proceedings, the winners being Mrs. Geo Neil and Mrs. J. Glendinning for the ladies, and Messrs R. Greenhalgh and A. Kay for the gentlemen.

On Thursday last, the Italian Hall was the scene of a merry party when between 50 and 60 friends met there to pay honor to Mr. G. R. Powell, on the occasion of his birthday.

Mr. Clark's speech was followed by those present singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and Mr. Powell who was evidently greatly pleased by the good singing shown him responded in a suitable manner.

Dancing was kept up until 2 a.m. and the whole affair was a most conspicuous success.

For the first time in the history of such institutions in the Dominion, a Canadian insurance company is able to cover over a billion dollars of assurances in force. It was generally known that there was some expectation of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada reaching this stupendous figure, but many underwriters regarded it as unattainable, and there has been much curiosity to learn the result. The facts as announced by President T. B. Macaulay at the annual meeting of the company, show that the Sun Life has not only attained its objective but has surpassed it by over $21,000,000. The total amount of life assurances in force with the Sun Life company at the end of 1925 proved to be $1,021,097,102.

Child Welfare in Alberta

What is considered to be one of the most important activities of the public health department of the Alberta Government, is that which has to do with child welfare. Alberta has reason to be proud of its children. It was an Alberta baby, from the child welfare clinic in Calgary that last year obtained the first prize as the Empire's best baby, at the Wembley exhibition in July, and it was another Alberta baby, from a clinic at Redcliff that was awarded the second prize "The Astor award of merit" at the same exhibition in 1925. These babies were in regular attendance at their respective clinics from the time they were one month old. The gratifying announcement is made that the child welfare clinics conducted by the provincial department of health in Edmonton and Calgary, in co-operation with the civic authorities, and also at other points in the province, have been effective in greatly reducing the infant mortality. In Edmonton it is shown that the clinical work has contributed to a reduction in the infant mortality from 171 per 1000 in 1913 to 54.3 per 1000 in 1925, a truly remarkable record. In Calgary the reduction has been almost equally as satisfactory, the rate for 1925 being 66.6, a much lower figure than in former years. During the year 1925, there were 365 child welfare clinics held in the province, with a total attendance of 13,358 babies and children of pre-school age. Of this number 86 clinics were held in rural districts, evidence that the health department is continuing to pursue its policy of reaching out to the rural districts to furnish attention which is not readily available otherwise to the isolated residents.

Start the Children Right

In this column last week some emphasis was laid on the importance and value of developing habits of thrift, and in the concluding paragraphs parents were urged to encourage their children to start a savings account early in life, and even to provide the nucleus of such an account before the child was old enough to think and act for itself.

The writer's attention has since been drawn to a report on The Penny Bank of Ontario, a system created for the purpose of encouraging thrift on the part of school children in that Province, and thereby teaching in a concrete way the wisdom and great value of thrift and the habit of saving. The subject is surely important enough to warrant a further reference.

It is the idea of The Penny Bank of Ontario to provide for every child at school an account which is set up daily of each week to put small coins in a safe place and to prove to him how fast he can now quickly a series of small amounts builds into a comfortable balance. From the report, to which reference has been made, it is learned that Penny Bank accounts in the public schools of Toronto now number 45,533, while the average school attendance is about 55,000. In other words, 78 per cent of the children are taking advantage of the service offered.

Some rather interesting facts are disclosed through this Penny Bank scheme, and two questions asked, based on the weekly reports, are: "Are the children of well-to-do parents gaining a just notion of the value of money?" "Is there a tendency among them to regard coppers, nickels and ten-cent pieces as mere chicken-feed, as contemptible coins, as unworthy fractions of their money unit?"

It is reported that in the middle of Toronto schools in a given week, it was found that in the poorer districts the services of the Penny Bank are accepted and appreciated to a far greater extent than in the richer districts. In one school in the poorest district, 45 per cent of the students present on October 27 last made deposits. On that same day in one school in one of the richest districts only 13 per cent of the pupils were depositors, while at another school in a rich district the figure was 11 per cent. Throughout the eighty-eight public schools in Toronto the average of depositors on October 27 was 27 per cent of the pupils present.

It may be true, and probably is, that many of the children in the better residential districts have savings accounts in the chartered banks. If so, the boy or girl is not likely to make a journey to the bank to deposit 25 or even 50 cents. It is much more likely to wait until a dollar or more is accumulated, and meanwhile the boy or girl will probably fritter away.

As a writer in a Toronto paper pointed out, however, in this Penny Bank scheme, the training thus afforded is just as valuable for the child of a prosperous home as for the boys or girls of the poorest district. It may be even more valuable, since the son or daughter of the rich man is likely some time to have the handling of large sums of money. They cannot manage them efficiently unless they know the exact value of a nickel, unless they have learned the importance of small sums. It is the untrained children of the rich who blossom into wastrels.

Thrift is a habit, a character-forming habit. The boy or girl who deposits five cents every week without exception gets more benefit than another who spends a dollar at infrequent and irregular intervals. In the business of life pay-day comes once a week, or once a month. The man or woman who banks his amount, large or small, on each pay-day is on the road to success, and the boy or girl who makes this a habit early in life is almost certain to succeed.

Here in the West, the same principle is being applied in some schools by many individual families. The boys or girls are given a pig, a calf, a setting of eggs; for their very own on the understanding that they look after them, and the increase and profits are theirs. In this way, the boys and girls not only develop a deeper love for animals and learn valuable lessons as to their proper care and feeding, but their interest in the farm home and agricultural pursuits generally is maintained and intensified. And if the profits from the sale of their own poultry or livestock are carefully placed in a savings account, and if the boy or girl is taught to add to his account year by year, these boys and girls accumulate a respectable bank account, which will prove a further incentive to careful management, and to training through actual experience which will prove of undoubted value to them throughout life.

After experimenting 16 years with more than 50,000 mice, Mrs. Maude Sibley, associate professor at the University of Chicago, is convinced that cancer is not a germ disease, but is hereditary, and that resistance as well as susceptibility to the disease may be inherited.

From Underground Spring

Presence of Fish in Pond Mystifies Doctor Farmer

Fish measuring twelve inches have been found on the farm of John O'Hagan, near Oneemee, N.D. Farmers in the neighborhood are mystified because the pond, which has no outlet, has formed within the last two years and apparently is fed by a spring. The only explanation is that the fish are coming through an underground channel. The discovery was made when farmers were taken from the pond for packing purposes.

Aviators to Carry Provisions to Last a Year

Prospects of a year's walk back to civilization should his Pekker airplane "go dead" while on its flight across the North Pole, are not worrying Carl Ben Eielson, University of Minnesota graduate, who is to pilot the plane on the proposed Wilkins expedition flight.

"We will be in the air about 23 hours before we reach Spitsbergen, according to our computations, but we will carry enough concentrated foods to last us a year should we have to walk back from somewhere in that unexplored land," Eielson said as he left for Point Barrow, Alaska, to join the expedition.

The principal object of the expedition is to ascertain whether or not there is undiscovered land north of Point Barrow, "America's farthest north."

"When the hopoff comes from Point Barrow north," Eielson said, "the captain, George Wilkins, of the expedition, has left orders that in case we do not show up no relief expedition is to be sent out for at least two years."

Will Unveil Effigy

• Of King Edward

Public Will See Figure of Queen Alexandra at Same Time

When the recent effigy of King Edward in St. George's Chapel, Windsor, England, was unveiled, the effigy of his Queen will be revealed to the public at the same time.

The figure of King Edward has been covered up with a flag for several years.

The slab for the companion of Queen Alexandra adjoins it.

It is expected that when the unveling will take place, the sculptor, Sir Bertram Mackennal, said, when interviewed. "For five years repairs have been in progress to the roof of St. George's Chapel, and until the renovations are complete it will be impossible to unveil the figures for want of injury."

Few people know that at the time when Sir Bertram executed his figure of King Edward, for St. George's Chapel, he also designed a similar figure of the Queen, the royal aspect of whom is the coronation robes. It shows her in her coronation robes.

KEEP LITTLE ONES WELL IN WINTER

By Regulating the Stomach and Bowels With Baby's Own Tablets

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are changeable and cold and stormy, that the mind is cold and stormy, that the mind is not able to take the children out for the fresh air and exercise they need so much. The children often complain of colds, and are easily affected by the cold weather, and are soon seized with colds or grippe.

They will be well if Baby's Own Tablets are given to them. They regulate the stomach and bowels and drive out colds, and help to clear the body of colds to get over the winter season in perfect safety.

In using Baby's Own Tablets one need not be afraid of giving them to the children, for they contain nothing that is absolutely safe and sound, and are perfectly safe for the newborn babies. The tablets contain not one particle of opium or other dangerous drug. They are sold by medical dealers at 25 cents a box, and from Dr. W.H. Wilson's Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Sask. Co-operative Elevator Co.

Building a Large Addition to the Terminal Terminal at Buffalo

A $900,000-bushel storage addition to the "Co-op" Buffalo terminal transfer elevator will be completed immediately, according to a decision reached by the board of directors of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevators Company. Contracts for the foundation of the structure have been awarded to D. E. Horion Construction Company, of Buffalo, and work will be under way within a few days. The foundation work will be completed early in April, when contracts will be let for the superstructure. Present plans call for the completion of the new unit early in July, making it in time for the handling of a portion of the United States crop, which will be moving to the seaboard at that time.

Completion of the addition to the "Co-op's" Buffalo elevator will give the company 2,000,000 bushels of storage space at Buffalo, and a total terminal storage capacity at Port Arthur and Buffalo of 17,100,000 bushels.

The new addition to the "Co-op's" terminal transfer elevator will give the farmers of Saskatchewan control over more terminal and country elevator storage space than any other grain-handling organization on the continent. The "Co-op" now operates 450 country elevators.

WHEAT POOL IS GREAT HELP TO FARM INDUSTRY

Winnipeg.—"In the wheat pool we have the greatest single factor for the revitalizing of the farming industry," declared President A. G. Russell, at the third Manitoba economic conference. The wheat pool, he maintained, was destined to play an important part in the future of the farmer in Western Canada, and he urged that it be accorded full support.

In extending a welcome to the delegates, Premier J. C. Bracken pointed to the tremendous growth in several field farming. In Manitoba, he said, agriculture and its various branches were worth just 20 times as much as all other industries in the province, combined.

In suggesting what could be done to further improve conditions, Premier Bracken suggested increasing the acreage under cultivation; making the returns safer by increasing diversification; increasing the number of farms occupied; reducing the losses from pests and other agencies; reducing the cost of production and finally increasing the efficiency of marketing.

Canada's Sea Fish

Catch Is Higher

Herring Taken on Pacific Coast Mostly Recreational For Recreation

Ottawa.—The total catch of sea fish on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts during the month of December was 54,522,400 pounds, valued at $930,017.

During the same period in 1924 there were 32,427,100 pounds landed with a value of $711,424.

The increase in the catch is due to the large increase of herring landed on the Pacific coast.

On the Pacific coast the catch of herring shows a very large increase over the same period last year, there being 40,588,600 pounds "caught and landed" while, last year for the same period only 14,673,200 pounds were landed.

Practically the whole catch was dry salted for shipment to the Orient.

"From a statistical standpoint authorities are agreed that available supplies of wheat in exporting countries only exceed the estimated normal requirements of importing countries by a small margin. Economic conditions in European countries, however, indicate home consumption will be utilized to the fullest extent to obtain necessary only. It is also being used more extensively as bread grain.

"Another factor which exerts a market influence is the wheat price at which native supplies are available to mills in some countries is far below that which would have to be paid for imported grain.

"Until conditions change it is hardly to be expected that Canada's surplus can be disposed of very rapidly in the market, by the end of January, at least 35,000,000 bushels of wheat still remain in storage at Lakehead and Atlantic seaboard ports, Port William and Port Arthur elevators were full and interior public elevators rapidly filling. OPENING OF ALBERTA LEGISLATURE

The Speech From Throne Forecasts Important Legislation ... Colorful Ceremony Marks Initial Proceedings

(By John Mackenzie)

Possibly because this is the twenty-first anniversary of the birth of the Alberta Legislature, more possibly because a new Lieutenant-Governor is on the job, the opening of the 1926 session of the Legislative Assembly of Alberta, at Edmonton, on Thursday, February 11th, was invested with something more than the usual display of pomp and ceremony. His Honour's retinue, preceding him in his passage through the marble halls which represent a considerable fraction of our bonded debt, wore the gorgeous uniforms of peacetime, contrasting strongly with the dark kilt of the guard of honour and the band.

Spectators thronged the galleries and corridors to witness the spectacle. The day's proceedings were brief. Lieutenant-Governor Egbert, following his entry, read the Speech from the Throne in a strong, clear voice.

Liberals Members Protests Validity of Session

The only unexpected happening of the day was provided by J. M. Dechene, Liberal member for Beaver River, who, after explaining that he was not speaking for the Opposition in this matter but for himself, protested against the House going ahead with business without its full complement of members. Six constitutions were without representation.

Premier J. E. Brownlee, who had previously moved that the speech of the Lieutenant-Governor be taken into consideration on Friday, said he did not propose to take the time of the House to debate this matter on the opening day. He would be surprised if many members of the House held the same opinions on this matter as the member from Beaver River. The situation had been very carefully considered by the Government. They had gathered the opinions of all sections of the people of the province before making the decision to proceed. If the honorable member wished he would be offered lots of time to move a vote of censure on the Government. The Government were convinced that the people of the province did not want to have business upset and the province put to the expense of by elections for the short period prior to dissolution.

The motion was then carried.

Gist of the Speech

Commencing with a reference to the demise of Queen Alexandra, the Speech proceeded to note the gratifying improvement in the agricultural industry of the province. Development in oil resources is also noted with pleasure. The output of coal is increasing, notwithstanding unsettled conditions in some areas. The Government has made efforts to provide work and relief for winter unemployment. The Legislature will be asked to determine the use to be made of Alberta's share of the 1919 Wheat Board surplus.

Reports from the manager of the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation project and from the Farm Loan Advisory Board will be placed before the House.

Representations will continue to be made for equalized freight rates and removal of discriminations.

Natural Resources
The agreement between the Dominion and Provincial Governments re provincial control of natural resources will be submitted for ratification, and legislation will also be introduced to make provision for the administration of these resources.

A number of other proposed items, such as railways, school grants, factories act revisions, hospital conditions, highways, further economies in administration, redistribution, etc., are promised consideration.

Six to Eight-Week Session Forecast

The address from the Throne involves a large amount of legislation, but it is hoped to get through in eight weeks' time, if not less.

The Opposition is reduced by six as compared with last session, owing to the ambitions of representatives of the constituencies of Calgary, Claresholm, Edmonton, Edson, Leduc, and Lethbridge, for federal honours, which some of them have not attained.

Ex-Premier H. H. Greenfield occupied a seat in the House for the opening, to the right and rear of the Treasury bench.

It is stated that the redistribution committee, when they report, will not recommend any drastic cut in the number of members. While on a population basis the argument for a cut is logical, yet owing to the huge area over which the population is spread it is difficult to cut numbers and yet ensure proper representation.

Four political elements are now represented in the House—U.F.A., Liberals, Labour, and Independent. The lone Conservative, General Stewart, resigned last October to make an unsuccessful fight for a federal seat.

The reply to the address was moved on Friday by E. E. Sparks, representing Wetaskiwin, and seconded by E. G. Cook, Pincher Creek.

Rumour has it that on account of the rapprochement attempts at Ottawa between Liberals and Progressives, the opposition to the provincial government in this session will not be of a strenuous nature. But time will tell. . . .

Square Chin Is Disappearing

Scientist Says Teeth Decreasing In Number and Chin Will Recede

A distinguished scientist informs us that among the changes continually going on in the structure of man are those affecting the teeth, which are decreasing in number. The third molar, he declares, is doomed, and other teeth may follow it until the normal state of man is toothlessness. When that happens the square chin will no longer be a sign of strength of character. For as the teeth disappear or recede, the chin will recede also.

No Royal National Symbol

Apple Pie Loses Crown to Cocoanut Pie in Recent Contest

The great American apple pie is no longer a national symbol, if a recent pie contest held in Washington Valley, N.J., is a criterion. With a judge, lawyer, merchant, millionaire and policeman acting as judges, the housewives of the district presented every known pie for judgment, and when the awards were announced, not one prize had been given to the maker of an apple pie. First prize went to the creator of a creamy coconut pie.

New Cause For Ex-Kaiser Hates

A hookabout the ex-Kaiser, by Emil Ludwig, just published in Germany, finds a new cause for the War Lord's hatred of Britain. As is generally known, the ex-Kaiser was affected from birth with paralysis of the left arm. This, according to the book, is attributed to the fact that at least one of his parents was under care of a British physician. For this deformity he never forgave either his mother or the physician whom she brought over from London to attend her—Glasgow Herald.

Condoned Offence Of Turks

British Government Overlooked Infraction of Rules Regarding Mosul Question

Although the Turkish Government attempted to influence public opinion in this country, with the aid of a section of the British press, in respect of the question of Mosul, the British Government has condoned that infringement of the rules of international comity, and expressed its willingness to give every consideration to the requirements of the Turkish Government.

There was a difference of opinion between the two countries, however, on another matter, for no other nation can command the requisite resources with the exception of the United States, which will do nothing for Turkey.

Great Britain, however, in her dealings with Turkey, can rely upon the support of both France and Italy; and the worth of the friendship of the three most powerful nations in Europe hardly to be despised—London Daily Post.

Many Trip From London to India Via Suez Canal

Canada is likely to become an integral part of a great highway from Britain to India. Plans are being made by the Canadian Pacific which will, when complete, make it possible to go from London to Calcutta by way of the Atlantic and thence across Canada and then by ship direct from the Pacific coast to India.

The problem is to find a fare that will be economical enough, and one that will compete with existing routes. It is the plan of the voyage to take about 12 days. At present the voyage to India by way of the Suez, which averages about 20 days, it is thought that many travellers who are tired of the old route and weary of its monotony would welcome an opportunity of seeing Canada and crossing the Pacific.

Many Englishmen regularly return to England every three years and then go back to India. Hitherto they have been forced to take the Suez Canal route, but the present plans of the Canadian Pacific corporation will, they will be able to make the round the world trip.

Must Hold Command Of Seas
Great Britain Has to Protect Trade in Order to Feed Its Population
It is still necessary for Great Britain to hold command of the seas in order to feed her population. W. C. Bridgeman, former member of the House of Commons, declared in addressing the members of the Constitutional Club at London.

The decisions of the Washington conference, in regard to the dimensions of the world's principal navies have been faithfully observed by England and the other countries involved, he said, but England is not in exactly the same position as other countries. She is no longer an island power, Mr. Bridgeman continued, and she must protect her enormous expanse of empire abroad on which she depends for her very existence.

How He Discovered Best Constipation Relief

Mr. Joseph F. Glim of Brooklyn, N.Y., writes "In the past 20 years I have been constantly troubled with constipation. Every remedy I tried would bring relief for a while but soon failed. The only remedy I have been able to use steadily with good results has been Carter's Little Pink Pills. I have never had a bowel movement like it since I began to take them. I know I'm going to feel relieved."

dened eyes leave the other's face. Carvel replaced his pipe. He rose to his feet, took up his rifle, slipped on his snowshoes, and fronted the north. "Come on, boy," he said. "We've got to travel."

It was a matter-of-fact invitation, as though the two had been travelling companions for a long time. It was, perhaps, not only an invitation but part of a plan. It was a challenge. For a full half-matinement he food通行证. In his tracks gazing at Carvel as he strode into the north. A sudden convulsive twitching shot through Baree; he swung his head toward Lac Bain; he looked again at Carvel and a whine was resemble more than a breath came out of his throat. The man was just about to disappear into the thick spruce. He paused and looked back.

"Coming, boy?"

Bananas have become popular as a training food with British football players. ### KEEPING HEALTHY DURING WINTER

Colds, Influenza and Like Troubles Can Be Avoided

You have noticed that some people enjoy good health through the most severe weather, while others succumb to colds or influenza, or even touch of wintry conditions, or are attacked by rheumatism or sciatica?

The words were like a caress to Baree—the first he had known since the loss of Nepeesse and Pierrot. He dropped his head and his jaw lay down. "I'm glad you're here," Carvel could see the blood dripping slowly from it.

"You poor devil!" he repeated.

There was no fear in the way he put forth his hand. It was the confidence of a great sincerity and a great compassion. It touched Baree's head and patted it in a brotherly fashion, and then—slowly and with a bit more caution—it went to the trap fastened to Baree's forepaw. In his half-crashed brain Baree was fighting to remember things, and the cause mainly why he felt the steel jaws of the trap open and he drew forth his maimed foot. He did then what he had done to no other creature but Nepeesse. Just once his hot tongue shot out and licked Carvel's hand. The mad laugh. With his powerful hands he opened the other trap, and Baree was free.

For a few moments he lay without moving, his eyes fixed on the frozen ground end of a birch log and was stilling his pipe. Baree watched him till it; he noted with new interest the first purplish cloud of smoke that left Carvel's mouth.

The man was not more than the length of two trap-chains away—and he grinned at Baree.

"Screw up your nerve, old chap," he encouraged. "No broken bones just a little stiff. Mebby we'll have to get you home."

He rubbed his face in the direction of Lac Bain. The suspicion was in his mind that McTaggart might turn back. Perhaps that same suspicion was impressed upon Baree, for when Carvel looked at him again he was on his feet, staggering a bit as he gained his equilibrium. In another moment the outlaw had swum the pack-sack from his shoulders and was opening it. He thrust it in his hand and drew out a chunk of raw red meat.

"Kill me now, momma!" he explained to Baree. "Yearling bull, tender as a pig's ear—and that's as fine a sweetbread as ever came out from under a backbone. Try it!"

He tossed the flesh to Baree. There was no equivocation in the manner of its acceptance. Baree was fascinated—and the meat was flung to him by a friend. He buried his teeth in it. His jaws crunched it. New tears leaped from his blood as he feasted, but not for an instant did he riddle.

"Kill me now, momma!" he explained to Baree. "Yearling bull, tender as a pig's ear—and that's as fine a sweetbread as ever came out from under a backbone. Try it!"

He tossed the flesh to Baree.

Keen interest is being taken locally in the statement that the Dominion government will shortly commence the erection of coal bunkers at North Vancouver. It is understood that a reasonable freight rate has been secured on coal shipments from Fernie to Vancouver. Every effort will be put forth by the Company to secure steamship business on the Pacific and if this can be done the future of the coal business in this valley is assured. The government interest in the matter is the result of active work on the part of the Coal Co. and the able assistance of the Hon. Dr King—Fernie Free Press.
